

GUIDELINE FOR ONLINE CLOSURE OF ACCOUNT

Closing your account is a request to permanently stop all trading & investing activity. You will have to re-do the account opening process to resume trading. Alternatively, you can deactivate your account to take a temporary break.

We regret that you have decided to close your account with us.

You can close your account online provided your account has no holdings, no pending positions or orders, and has zero balance.

Once the closure is initiated, we will disable access to back office & front office immediately.

Please note account closure is irreversible. Hence it is recommended that you download your trade book, contract notes, bills, P&L, tax P&L and other statements before proceeding with account closure. You may need these for tax filing and compliance. You cannot download these statements once the account is closed.

How to transfer your holdings to another demat account.

The process to transfer shares from one demat account to another differs based on whether the receiver has a CDSL or an NSDL demat account.

If your share transfer is to another CDSL demat account:

a. You can follow any one of the following online methods:

i. You can gift the shares to your friends' or relatives' account.

ii. You can use CDSL easiest to transfer shares online to a different CDSL demat account

b. You can transfer shares offline by submitting the DIS forms.

If your share transfer is to another NSDL demat account.

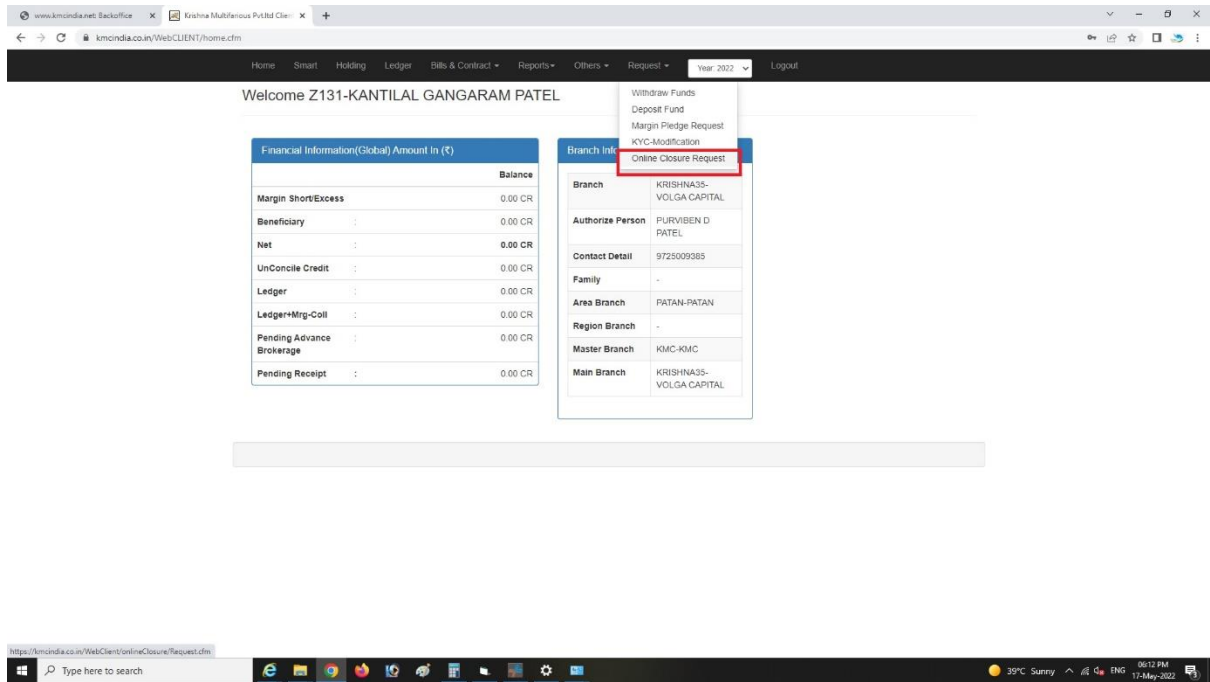

a. You can follow the offline transfer process, i.e. by submitting the DIS forms to us.

b. You can also do this online via CDSL Easiest.

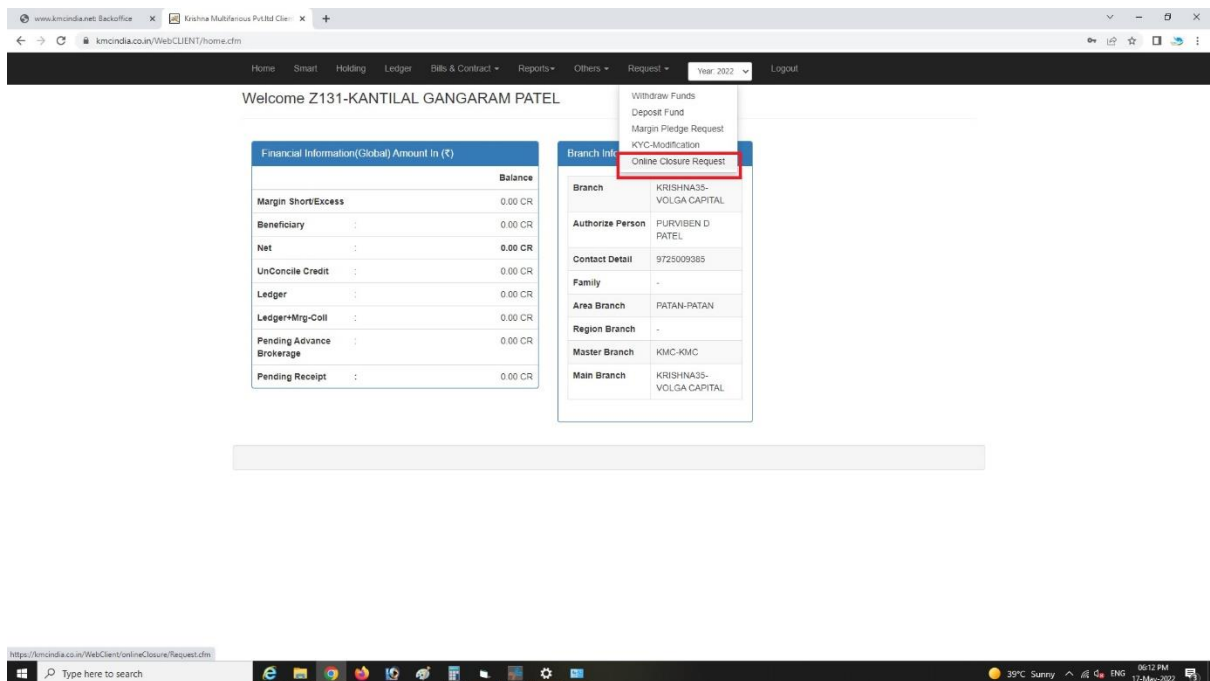

Note: We are a depository participant (DP) under the CDSL depository.

To close your account online, log in to <https://kmcindia.co.in/WebClient/> and follow the steps below.
